Landholders invited to free “Walk and Talk”

Sarina Landcare Catchment Management Association Inc. (SLCMA) is inviting landholders to come along to a free “Walk and Talk” morning at the Sarina Rural Skills Centre. The morning will focus on practical, innovative, land management solutions, particularly for landholders with small acreages.

It will introduce landholders to sustainable land management; responsibilities of land ownership and, innovation and planning. Regional Landcare Facilitator (Sarina Catchment), Ms Saskia von Fahland said “It is a great opportunity to be inspired to think about goals for your small acreage and how to get there”.

Come along for a chat and a cuppa with Frank Langfield, consultant for Small Acreage Management Systems and Landcare. A range of topics will be covered including pasture and stock management, poultry, fencing, hydroponics and aquaponics, biosecurity, waterways and native vegetation.

The event will be held at the Sarina Rural Skills Centre, a working “small acreage” which demonstrates a variety of innovative land management activities. The facility is operated by Sarina Rural Skills Centre Community Board and Sarina State High School Agricultural department.
